 Each spring, the Congressional Institute sponsors a nationwide high school visual art competition to recognize and encourage artistic talent in the nation and in each congressional district. The competition provides an opportunity for members of Congress to encourage and recognize the artistic talents of their young constituents.

 Students submit entries to their representative's office, and panels of local artists in each district select the winning entries, which are then displayed for one year at the U.S. Capitol.

 Participating students will have their artwork show-cased at Northwestern Mutual located in downtown Milwaukee. The first place winner in each competition will have their winning entry displayed at the U.S. Capitol for one year, and are eligible for scholarship opportunities from the Savannah College of Arts and Design.

How to Enter

Entries must meet the following criteria:

- 🚩 Be two dimensional
- 🚩 No larger than '26 inches wide by '26 inches tall by 4 inches thick
- 🚩 Weigh no more than 15 pounds
- 🚩 Be original in concept, design, execution, and not violate any U.S. copyright laws.
