Question: Congress passed disaster loans for small businesses. What happens now?

Answer: SBA is working directly with Governors to provide targeted, low-interest loans to small businesses and private nonprofit organizations that have been severely impacted by the Coronavirus (COVID-19) outbreak.

Question: My state received approval, but it wasn’t state-wide. Will SBA allow more counties to be approved?

Answer: In some instances, state-wide declarations are not being made. Instead, they are on a county basis. If your state is experiencing new cases in undeclared counties after an SBA approval, Governors can amend their approved declaration by working with SBA on the county-specific findings.

Question: My state received approval so where do small businesses apply?

Answer: Small businesses in eligible areas may apply for an EIDL online at: https://disasterloan.sba.gov/ela/ or they can also reach out to their local SBA District Offices.

Question: If small businesses need help with their applications, are there any other resources available to help them fill out the applications?
Answer: SBA has also coordinated with the Resource Partners, including Small Business Development Centers, (SBDCs) who can assist with the application process. The list of SBDCs is available online at: https://www.sba.gov/localassistance/find/?type=Small%20Business%20Development%20Center&pageNumber=1

Question: How do I know if a small business is eligible?

Answer: SBA’s Office of Disaster Assistance works with state emergency management divisions to certify certain areas as an “eligible area.” • The list of eligible areas is also available online at: https://disasterloan.sba.gov/ela/Declarations/Index or https://www.sba.gov/disaster-assistance/coronavirus-covid-19. • The list is updated periodically and on the same day a new declaration is approved. • Your state may not have been approved yet but a county in your state may have been approved as a contiguous county on a neighboring state’s approval, which allows small employers in those counties to apply for loans. • Please check often to see if your area has been added even if your state has not been formally approved.

Question: What is an Economic Injury Disaster Loan?

Answer: The SBA’s Economic Injury Disaster Loan (EIDL) program provides small businesses with working capital loans of up to $2 million to help overcome the temporary loss of revenue. • The loans may be used to pay fixed debts, payroll, accounts payable, or other bills that can’t be paid because of the COVID-19 outbreak. • The interest rate is 3.75 percent for small businesses without credit available elsewhere, and businesses with credit available elsewhere are not eligible to apply for assistance. • The maximum term is 30 years. • A small business is defined by the SBA’s Size Standards in accordance with the Native American Industry Classification System (NAICS) codes and SBA’s Size Standards Tool can be utilized.
